Beacon hard fescue is a recent Mountain View Seed release bred for improved durability, persistence, and visual quality under very demanding circumstances and growing environments.

Beacon features high seedling vigor and aggressively establishes to more quickly form a dense stand under traditional inputs. Shoot density is increased which also contributes to better traffic and wear tolerance. Under minimal maintenance programs summer stress tolerance is excellent---and shade tolerance top ranked against all fine fescue cultivars tested.

Beacon is a use-anywhere selection when soils are lacking, irrigation absent, and fertility below par, whether or not mown and sun to shade. It's suggested for golf course roughs, parks roadsides and hillsides, and low maintenance residential turf.
